

DVO Recipe Converter App Privacy Policy

Created June 30, 2024

Application Capabilities

- This application does not collect or transmit any user's personally identifiable information.
- This application does not include any in-app purchases.
- This application does not have any social media capabilities.
- This application does not include any advertising.
- This application does not access any outside services inside the application.
- If any recipes in a DVO export file contain embedded links to image files hosted on Cook'n cloud servers, this application will retrieve those images to integrate them into the export files generated by this application.
- This application includes the following links to the internet on its "About" dialog box.
 - A link to our Microsoft Store website page
 - A link to our support email address
 - A link to a PayPal tip jar to help support our development and publishing costs

Third Parties

We use the Microsoft Store to sell and distribute this application. Their Privacy Policy can be found here:

<https://privacy.microsoft.com/en-us/privacystatement>

Report Violations or to Get More Information

If you would like to report any violations of this policy or get more information on any app, please contact us using our support email address.